

Parvathy Omanakuttan, Miss India 2008 to be the Goodwill Ambassador of Genesis Foundation

Will help Genesis Foundation save lives of critically ill children

Gurgaon, January 16: Parvathy Omankuttan, Miss India 2008 and 1st Runner Up-Miss World 2008 will be the 1st Goodwill Ambassador of the Genesis Foundation to help spread awareness and garner support for providing medical care to abandoned and lesser privileged children facing life threatening ailments. Her work will give the children supported by the foundation a chance to live.

"Children are a gift of God and I am delighted at this opportunity to bring some joy into these beautiful lives through my association with The Genesis Foundation," says Parvathy Omanakuttan.

"Parvathy's universal appeal is a priceless asset and it is a privilege to welcome her as the 1st Goodwill Ambassador of the foundation." Says Prema Sagar, Founder Trustee, Genesis Foundation. She further adds, "With her support we hope to give a chance to live and share more smiles with the numerous needy children that we support."

About Genesis Foundation

Established as a private trust in May 2001, the Genesis Foundation has been providing access to world class medical care to abandoned and lesser privileged children with the intent and hope that such children may have an opportunity to lead a normal or near normal life and sustain themselves in the future.
